

The Family and Descendants of Sir Thomas More

Grandparents:

William More and Johanna Joye:

William was a Citizen and Baker of London. He died in 1469. Johanna (d.1470) was the daughter of John Joye, a Citizen and Brewer of London and his wife Johanna, daughter of John Leycester, a Chancery Clerk.

Due to the seizure of family documents by Henry VIII following Thomas More's execution his ancestry cannot be traced back further than this. He referred to himself as "a Londoner born, of no noble family, but of honest stock".

[Note: It has sometimes been claimed that Sir John More, Thomas More's father, said that his ancestors came from Ireland. However, what he actually said was that his ancestors "either came out of the Mores of Ireland, or they came out of us". No records of any Irish links have been discovered.]

Parents:

Sir John More (c.1451-1530) and Agnes Graunger (d.1499):

John and Agnes were married in the church of St Giles without Cripplegate, London, on 24th April 1474. Agnes was the daughter of Thomas Graunger, an Alderman of London and a Merchant of the Staple of Calais.

Agnes was John More's first wife, and the mother of all his children. Agnes died in 1499 and was buried in the Church of St. Michael Bassishaw, London. After her death John More married again three times. His second wife was Joan Marshall (the widow of John Marshall) who died in 1505. His third wife was Joan Bowes (the widow of Thomas Bowes) who died in 1520. His fourth and last wife was Alice Clerk, the widow of John Clerk, but by birth the daughter of John More of Loseley, Surrey.

John and Agnes More had six children:

1. Joan (1475-1542): Married Richard Staverton, a Scrivener or copier of legal documents, and later an Attorney or junior lawyer. Had issue.

John More was a Judge in the Court of the King's Bench. He was knighted by Henry VIII in 1518. Sir John died in November 1530 and was buried in the Church of St. Lawrence Jewry. His widow, Lady Alice More, died at Northaw, near North Mymms, Hertfordshire in 1545.

Joanna was the daughter of John Colt of Netherhall, Roydon, Essex, and his wife Elizabeth Elrington. Joanna was the mother of all Thomas More's children. She died in 1511 and was buried in the Church of St. Stephen Walbrook. Her body was later transferred to Chelsea Old Church after the More family chapel had been built onto it.

After Joanna's death Thomas married Alice Middleton, the widow of John Middleton, a Citizen of London and a Merchant of the Staple of Calais, but by birth the daughter of Sir Richard Harpur and his wife Elizabeth Ardern. Alice died in 1551.

Thomas More was knighted by Henry VIII in May 1521 and appointed Lord Chancellor in October 1529. He was executed on 6th July 1535 and buried in the Chapel of St. Peter in Chains in the Tower of London.

He was Beatified by Pope Leo XIII on 29 December 1886, and Canonised by Pius XI on 19th May 1935. His Feast day is celebrated in the Catholic Church on 22nd June. Already the Patron Saint of Lawyers, he was declared Patron Saint of Statesmen and Politicians by Pope John Paul II on 31 October 2000.

Thomas More and Joanna Colt had four children:

4. John More II (1509-1547): Only son and heir. See below

The Family of John More II:

John was born at the 'Old Barge' in Bucklersbury, London, in 1509. He married Anne Cresacre in December 1529. Anne was the only child of Edward Cresacre of Barnborough, Yorkshire, and his wife Jane, daughter of Sir Richard Basset of Fledborough, Nottinghamshire. Anne was born at Barnborough between 2nd December 1511 and 21st April 1512. When her father died in 1512, age twenty-seven, Anne, his sole heiress, became a Ward of the Crown, a wardship which was eventually bought by Sir Thomas More c.1523.

John More and Anne had eight children:

1. Thomas More II (1531-1606): Eldest son and heir. See below.

2. Augustine More: Born at Chelsea on Tuesday 5th August 1533. Recorded as having died while young.

3. Edward More: Born at Chelsea on Saturday 13th August 1535. Edward may have married, and had a daughter Anne. However, there is no record of his marriage or the baptism of any children in the parish register of Barnborough, Yorkshire, where he lived most of his adult life. Edward conformed to the Church of England in later life. He was buried at St. Peter's Church, Barnborough on 2nd May 1620.

4. Gerome More: Named as fourth son in the family's 'Book of Hours' where only his death (with no date) is recorded. Probably born stillborn or died soon after his birth in 1537.

5. Thomas More III: Born on Tuesday 2nd July 1538. Usually known as Thomas More the younger. Became a Minister (Priest) in the Church of England, but no record of his ordination or place of ministry survives. It is known from his older brother's will (1606) that he married and had three children: Cyprian, Thomas and Constantine, and that he died before 1606. However, family researchers have never discovered the name of his wife, the birth years of his children or any other details of the family. His uncle, Cresacre More, writing c.1616-1620 said that he was very poor and that he had brought his children up in no commendable profession. Cresacre also said that, at that time, the only son still living was the eldest (Cyprian).

[Note: A Pedigree of the family published in 1873 says that Thomas' descendants went to Norfolk and then to America. The source of this information is not recorded, and no documentary evidence as to which descendant/s was/were involved, or when, or where, he/she/they went to America has so far been produced. Some internet sites claim that Thomas married a Martha Brooks, born c.1540, and that they had a son, Thomas William Moore. Martha Brooks is said to have been the daughter of Sir Robert Brooke and his third wife Dorothy Gatacre. This however does not accord with the documented history of the Brooke family concerned which shows that Martha Brooke (not Brooks), the eldest daughter of Sir Robert and Dorothy, was baptized at Claverley, Shropshire on 9th September 1545, and that she married a Christopher Digon.]

6. Bartholomew More: Born on Tuesday 10th February 1530. Said to have conformed to the Church of England, to have been unmarried, and to have died young of the plague.

7. Anne More: Born on Tuesday 12th April 1541. Married John West, son of George West of Aughton and Aston, Yorkshire, at St. Peter's, Barnborough, on 6th September 1559.

Anne and John West had four children:

- i. Jane: Baptised at St. Peters, Barnborough in August 1560.
- ii. Anne: Baptised at St. Peter's, Barnborough on 28th August 1561.
- iii. Barbara:
- iv. Godfrey: Married Catherine Revel at Hansworth on 25 May 1579. Catherine was the daughter of Thomas Revel of Stannington.

8. Francis More: Born 29th December 1546. Recorded as having died when still a child.

John More died in 1547, and Anne devoted herself to brining up her young children at Barnborough. On 13 June 1559 she married George West of Aughton and Aston, near Rotherham, Yorkshire. George was the son of John West of Aughton, and Anne, daughter of Ralph Eyre of Offerton-in-the-Peak, Derbyshire. Anne was George's second husband. His first wife (by whom he had two children, John and Elizabeth) was Jayne Trygot of Kirkby, Yorkshire. After their marriage George and Anne lived at Barnburgh Hall. They did not have any children. George West was buried at St. Peter's Church, Barnborough on 12th June 1572. Anne was buried in the church on 2 December 1577.

Thomas More II and His Family:

Thomas More II was born at Chelsea on Tuesday 8th August 1531. Married Mary Scrope in 1553. Mary, born in 1534, was the third daughter of John Scrope of Spennithorne, Yorkshire, and Hambleden Buckinghamshire, and his wife Phyllis, daughter of Ralph Rokeby of Mortham, Yorkshire. Thomas and Mary lived for a while at Hambleden, and then moved to Barnborough Hall, the ancestral home inherited by his mother. The family moved to Low Leyton, Essex, in March 1582. Thomas was committed to the Marshalsea Prison from April 1582 until July 1586 for refusing to conform to the Church of England.

Thomas and Mary had thirteen children:

1. Mary: Born at Hambleden on 25th December 1553. Married Edward More of Haddon, in the parish of Bampton, Oxfordshire. Edward (date of birth not recorded) was the son of Thomas More of Lower Haddon, Oxfordshire, and of Beswick, Yorkshire. After their marriage Mary and Edward lived on the estate belonging to Mary's father, at Low Leyton, Essex. Here they were regularly convicted of recusancy until Edward's death in 1605. Mary (then living with a married daughter at Stondon Massey, Essex) died in 1630.

Mary and Edward More had seven children:

- i. Isabel: Living, unmarried, in 1648.

[Note: Some internet genealogy sites claim that Mary and Edward More/Moore had a son, John, born 1584, who married an Elizabeth Merritt and emigrated to Virginia in the 1620's. Conflicting claims are made about this John's birthplace in England, and some say he was born in Ireland. No documentary evidence has been produced to substantiate any of these claims, and they do not accord with the known facts about the children of this family. When Thomas More (iv. above) entered the English College, Rome, on 15 October 1601 he made a sworn statement to the effect that he had one brother (see iii. above) and five sisters.]

2. Anne: Born at Hambleton on 10th April 1555. Unmarried. Died c.1630.

Elizabeth More died 15th July 1610. Cresacre may have spent some time at Gobions, the More family mansion at North Mymms, Hertfordshire, before moving, later in life, to live on his farm at Chilston, near Madley, in Herefordshire. He was buried at the Church of the Blessed Virgin Mary, Madley, on 26 March 1649. No trace of his grave remains.

The Family of Thomas More V:

Said to have had a son, John, whose date of birth is not recorded, but who died on 17th February 1702. There may also have been a son, Thomas, born 1650, who was at the English College, Rome, in 1670 when he described himself as "son of John".

[Note: An addition to Foster's Pedigree of the More family published in 1874 records a tradition that one of these Johns had a son, Edward Moore, who became a Church of England Minister and, eventually, Vicar of Over in Cheshire. Rev. Edward Moore married Mary.... (second name not recorded) and they had ten children whose descendants distinguished themselves, among other professions, in the Anglican Church and in the Indian Army. Col. C.J.T. Moore of Frampton Hall, Lincolnshire, an early descendant of this line and a well-known antiquarian and family researcher, left a note on his copy of the family pedigree which stated that he had serious doubts about the claim. 11. Augustine: Named 'Austin' in family documents. Born on 11th August 1676. A Woollen Draper. Lived in Whitechapel, London. Family documents indicate he had a son and a daughter whose names are not recorded. Died 15th August 1719.

[Note: The claim that Col. Augustine Moore of 'Chelsea', Virginia (1685-1743) was this Augustine, or, alternatively, that he was "the son of a sister of Basil , the son of Thomas More who married the daughter of Sir Basil Brooke" (i.e. Austin More's father) does not accord with the known facts. The latter claim was shown by genealogists in the U.S. in the early 1900s to have been based on forged documents. The creation of fictional pedigrees, linking back to families of note in England was, it is said, not uncommon in early colonial Virginia.]

[Note: Catholics were for many years required to enter the birth of their children in the register of their local Church of England Parish Register. It seems to have been up to the Minister's discretion whether he entered just their birth or their baptism. It was not forbidden for Catholics to have their children baptized in the Parish Church but, usually, where possible, they were baptized by Catholic missionary priests.]
